

Creating your pinched/coiled/slab built mug

(a step by step guide so a design you'll love)

First things first...lets figure out some mug shapes. Working in pairs, try to think of as many mug shapes as you can (draw them here)

Next step...What aspects of a face do you want/need? Let's keep these related to you in some way. Draw those elements here

Extras-ie. does your mug need feet? hair? ears? a mustache? These are up to you, but again should somehow relate to your personality

Finally-draw at least 3 potential designs for your mug. We do this because very often our first idea is not our best.
